NEOSHO FALLS.

Mrs. Geo. Matson, Correspondent.

Nov. 5.—D R Inge expects to ship some fat cattle to K. C. soon. Mr Inge is a heavy feeder in this locality.

J H Fry shipped three carload of feed to the K C market last week.

R A Wright went to K C last week and took in the sights.

The Neosho Falls Bowling club went to Humboldt Saturday evening to play the last game of a series of three.

In the previous games, Humboldt won two and Neosho Falls one.

Mrs T Crane and Mrs J Young went to Yates Center Friday and returned Saturday. They attended the contest last Friday evening.

We had a heavy rain Saturday night which was needed and welcomed by all. If we would only get the rains to make stock water.

Prof. T W Lurance is very low with paralysis. He will be remembered as a leader of the Iola band a few years ago.

R A Wright has received an offer from a lumber company of Cheyenne, Wyoming, and expects to depart for there in a few days.

A Snider of Rogers, Ark., a brother of Mrs W H Wright made her a short visit last week. He took the train to Kansas City Friday. From there he goes to the Pacific coast. Mr Snider is a rustler and we wish him success and prosperity in the far west.

What might have been a very serious accident happened to our genial old friends Jas. Conn and Cyrus Pruitt. They were driving along in a top buggy when a runaway team from behind ran over their buggy and horse throwing them under the team. We have not heard at this writing how badly they were hurt. We trust it will not prove serious.

W H Morris is building a neat residence. Will says he is tired of paying rent.

Amos Wright is buying up calves to feed this winter.

GENEVA.

A. H. Woodhouse, Correspondent.

Nov. 5th.—C. W. Spencer shipped a load of fat cattle to Kansas City market Monday night.

J. H. Franz unloads a car of corn here this week for his own use he is feeding a bunch of cattle.

Mr. A. W. Howland and wife to gether with Mr. and Mrs. Ireland were visiting Mr. C. W. Spencer last Sunday.

The local camp of M. W. A. has received a number of additions lately due to a great measure to a spirit of rivalry for the most names all in a friendly spirit however.

The boys who engaged in the All Halloween pranks carried their fun a little too far last week. No one objects to innocent fun but the foolish destruction of property is uncalled for.

A team of Colony school boys played our school boys a game of base ball last Saturday and judging from the amount of yelling done the game was a whopper the Colony lads have the score.

We understand arrangements are being made for an old fashioned New England Thanksgiving dinner Thanksgiving Day, definite arrangements are not made however.

As a result of the change in time our morning train will come at 8:50 a. m. going west and east at 11:45 a. m. west again at 3:10 p. m. The evening train at 6:20 p. m.

Mr. Bert Sell and Miss Mable Curtis spring an agreeable surprise on their friends by being quietly married last Sunday. Congratulations are now in order.

Two Constables Disagree.

Rather an unusual disturbance of the peace occurred on the streets here yesterday afternoon and might have proven serious had not officer Elmer Edwards been at hand and interfered.

It seems that Fletch Willoughby, constable of Marmaton township, was some time ago sent papers by an Iola justice to serve. The justice never received them back. So W. J. Ihrig was sent out and served them. Willoughby was in town yesterday and meeting Ihrig, accused him of having said that he was a "drunken sot," or words to that effect, to some Moran party. He then struck Ihrig, although the latter denied having made such a remark. Officer Edwards stepped up and interfered. Ihrig swore out a warrant for Willoughby's arrest and his hearing has been set for November 19.

It is believed that Willoughby had been drinking and that caused his hasty action. Ihrig is an old soldier, advanced in years, and only a man who was out of his head would deliberately assault another entitled to respect on those scores even if he believed himself justly provoked.

E. C. Rensberg Lost a Finger.

Elmer Rensberg, the implement dealer and member of the school board, lost the index finger of his right hand while showing a corn sheller and shredder to a farmer west of the river Wednesday.

The machine is a new fangled affair that chops and cuts the corn fodder and ears into food which stock can consume entirely. Mr. Rensberg was at the Jones farm west of the river, showing it to Mr. Dawson, who runs the place. Frank Bliss had been feeding the fodder into the machine and Elmer took his place. He had a pair of loose gloves on his hands and one of the fingers caught in the knives shaved the fodder. His hand was drawn into the feed trough and his right first finger cut off near the knuckle. He called to the men and Frank Bliss released the impaled hand with both his and the machine was thrown out of gear. Bliss brought Rensberg to town and Dr. Fulton dressed the injured hand.

Harry Richeson Injured.

Yesterday morning while at work at works No. 1 of the Lanyon Zinc Company, Harry Richeson met with an accident which required a doctor to remedy. He was pushing a transfer truck along a track which extends north and south at the east end of the furnaces and is used to transfer the loaded cars of mixed ore and coke when they come from the mix room to their proper furnace, when the truck stopped suddenly. He had jumped on it when he started it and the sudden stop threw him to the ground. His forehead struck heavily against the truck axle and a long cut in the skin on his forehead resulted. Dr. Coffman sewed three stitches in it. His eye was badly blacked also. He said this morning that he was feeling well and getting along all right. He is a son of Mrs. John Richeson.

BABY FOUND IN A FIELD

William Black Found New Born Babe in Corn Field in Osage Township

SUSPECTS UNDER ARREST

Emmett Lamunyan and Golda Huffman Arrested in Iola a Few Hours After Marriage.

What promises to prove one of the most sensational and dark chapters in the annals of Allen county criminal records developed Wednesday evening in Iola, when deputy Sheriff Palsting arrested Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Lamunyan at the boarding house just south of the Missouri Pacific depot. They were taken to jail charged with deserting an infant child in a field near the home of Mrs. Lamunyan.

Emmett Lamunyan and Golda Huffman drove to town Wednesday morning from their home in Osage township and were married about 3 o'clock that same afternoon by Probate Judge Smith. A. F. Huffman, the bride's father drove them to town and then drove back home. After the wedding the young couple went to a boarding house to await the evening train on which they intended going to West Plains, Mo., where the groom's father lives. They were arrested before the train arrived and lodged in jail.

The warrant on which they were arrested was sworn out by William Black, a neighbor of the Huffmans, before Justice James Woodard, of Moran. It charges that on October 25 the defendants did "expose a very young child, the child of Golda Huffman, she being the mother thereof, and said child being confined to her and said Lamunyan, in the field near the Huffman home in Osage township, with the intent to wholly abandon it." The following witnesses are cited to appear and testify in the case: William Black, Mrs. Black, Joe Cutter, Mrs. Cutter, Mrs. Nellie Huffman, Mrs. Mame Huffman, Mrs. Adaline Biggs. The time of trial had not been set today, as the young people telegraphed for their fathers to come and help them out of trouble.

Lamunyan said that his father is a mine worker at West Plains, Mo. That he himself has been working by the month for A. F. Huffman for the past two years. He admitted that some of the neighbors had been saying some pretty hard things about himself and the Huffman girl all summer but charged this to gossip and malice, alleging that the Cutters, related to his wife by marriage, had it in for himself and wife. Asked if he thought he could prove his innocence he said he thought he could. He telegraphed for his father last night and expects him here on the first train.

Mrs. Lamunyan was equally positive in her assertions of innocence. "If there was a child found, and I don't know anything about that except what I was told yesterday, I don't know whose it was. I know it wasn't mine."

The young couple are rather a puzzle to talk to. The husband is an innocent looking, boyish youth and talked unconcernedly about the affair. The wife likewise seemed little moved. There were no tears, no exhibitions of anger, no white alarm. They talked calmly about the affair as if it might be an everyday occurrence and seemed to think that their fathers would give bond for them and the trouble be ended.

Mrs. Lamunyan, in addition, to being but sixteen years old, has been without a mother's care for years, that guiding hand having been removed by death.

When the young people were searched at the jail, something like $140 was found in his pocket and about forty dollars in her purse. They were going to Missouri to stay a short time, they said, in the hope that the talk about them would die down.

The trial promises either to drag someone else into a disgraceful public guilt or to confront these young people with evidence that they cannot break down. If the child is still alive the case will not be as hard against them as in case it has died since being rescued. The women of the neighborhood will figure prominently as witnesses and on their testimony the defendants will doubtless be convicted or acquitted.

Allen County's Tight Vote

Allen county probably never had a tighter election. Nice weather and good roads favored a large vote but the fact that it was entirely local, with nothing but township officers to vote for, was responsible for the tight showing.

Up to the time of going to press the figures for the county could not be obtained. However the general results are known in all but one or two townships. Geneva, Dear Creek, Osage, Elm, Logan and Carlyle elect
